Rolls are supplied in 4m widths and up to 25m in length

Decide on the best way to lay the carpet to minimise the number of joints - either from the front to the back of the garden or across the garden. Carpets will need to be laid in the same direction to ensure the same direction to ensure the best finish is attained.

For best results we strongly recommend you lay a weed membrane. Work out how much you need by adding 10% to your total carpet area to allow for overlap.

Some of our surfaces require dressing with kiln dried sand to hold the carpet securely in place. Check your product to see if sand is required, we can then advice you of the quantity required.

Each carpet join will require glue and tape to join together.
